

New Energy Taxes: a sure way to hobble America's ailing Economy.

Less energy

Reduced government revenue

Fewer jobs

Congress will soon consider massive new taxes and fees – which could easily exceed $400 billion – on America's oil and natural gas industry, yet this level could produce devastating effects on our economy, all when America can least afford it.

It's a sure way to hobble our ailing economy.

These unprecedented taxes and fees would reduce investment in new energy supplies at a time when nearly two-thirds of Americans support developing our domestic oil and natural gas resources. That would mean less energy, and it would cost thousands of American jobs, actually reduce local, state and federal revenue, and further erode our energy security.

With our economy in crisis, this is no time to burden Americans with massive new energy costs.
